

VILLA DEAD IS BELIEF IN MEXICO

GEN. PERSHING IS NOT PUSHING CAMPAIGN
OF PURSUIT.

NEW TROOPS AT BORDER

ALARMISTS ARE BUSY
AT EL PASO WITH FAKE REPORTS.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, April 20.—Early withdrawal of the American troops from Mexico, or the authorization of military operations on a big scale must result from General Hugh L. Scott's investigation of the situation, in the opinion of army officers here.

General Pershing is not pushing his campaign against Villa and will not until he gets authority and facilities to operate more freely. Officers of Major General Funston's headquarters believe the facts in the case showing the futility of extending operations along the existing lines will convince General Scott of the hopelessness of further pursuit, unless the commanding officer in Mexico is given more effective backing.

Villa—if he is alive—can be caught, officers here believe, only by the adoption of a plan that Mexican almost certainly would characterize as a war.

Troop movements ordered by General Funston were being carried out today but probably none of the 2,500 additional men he had planned to give General Pershing will be further than Pershing's base at Columbus by the time General Scott arrives here tomorrow night.

EL PASO, Texas, April 20.—The growing belief that Francisco Villa is dead, whether or not his body has been recovered, was strengthened today by messages received by American mining concerns from their agents at Cuahuatlan, Parral, Santa Barbara and Guerrero.

All of these messages agreed that the report of Villa's death was common among the peons in Northern Chihuahua and was generally accepted as true. One very circumstantial story sent to the head of a mining concern operating in the Guerrero district by his Mexican superintendent, was positive that Villa had been buried in the neighborhood of San Francisco Borja, the hamlet where the grave of the bandit has been reported found.

The alarmists here have seized greedily on a proclamation issued in Parral, calling on all Mexicans to unite to resist the American invaders and purporting to have been issued by General Obregon, secretary of war. As similar proclamations appear almost daily in Guerrero and are suppressed by General Gavira, as speedily as they appear, little attention was paid by men familiar with Mexico to this latest proclamation.

Reports from Chihuahua say absolute quiet reigns in the state capital, and that there have been no signs of hostilities toward the American troops, especially as it has been reported the United States soldiers were being withdrawn from Mexico.

SCOTT TO STOP AT BORDER.

Chief of Staff Will Not Enter Mexico On Tour.

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Major General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the army, was on his way today to the border, as the personal representative of Secretary of War Baker to report on the military problems confronting General Funston.

General Scott's report, on which the Washington government's final action on General Carranza's request that the American expeditionary forces in Mexico be recalled, probably will depend to a great extent, is not expected under a week or ten days. Meanwhile, no decision on the question is looked for unless further outbreaks against the American troops demand immediate action.

State department officials, who for the past few days have devoted their attention almost wholly to the German situation, were expected to begin work today on some of the questions involved in the forthcoming reply to Carranza. These can be worked out before General Scott's report is reached.

General Scott is due at San Antonio, Texas, General Funston's headquarters, Friday night. Officials here explain that General Funston will remain in supreme command of the border situation and expeditionary forces and that the sole object of General Scott's mission is to obtain a clearer view of the situation than could be gotten in official reports.

CINCINNATI—Houses in New Richmond and in the country thereabouts were shaken before daylight today when a quantity of dynamite and powder, stored in a temporary frame structure on the side of the dam being built there exploded.
The explosion was caused by fire which destroyed the buildings erected by the National Contract Company, the builders of the dam. The road was heard for fifty miles up and down the river.

KANSAS CITY—Reports today from the tornado-swept sections of Missouri and Kansas indicated the death list in yesterday's storms would reach 20. More than one hundred persons were injured. Property damage probably will amount to more than $750,000; Stover, Morgan county, Missouri, still was cut off from communication today and it was impossible to confirm reports that six persons were killed.

Russia has come to the aid of France and Great Britain in the great struggle on the western front, sending a strong force of troops to fight with the entente allies there.

The Russians disembarked at Marseilles at noon today, their arrival being noted by General Joffre, in the order of the day, the French commander-in-chief, citing their coming as another striking proof of Russia's devotion to the common cause of the allies.
The Russians are believed to have embarked for France from the port of Archangel on the White Sea, the only port through which there is free communication between Russia and her allies in the west. It is considered probable that the transports carrying the troops made a wide sweep out into the North Atlantic before heading for the Mediterranean to avoid the submarine danger zone in the vicinity of the British Isles.

In this connection it is to be noted that word reached New York today through private cable advice that they had closed the port of Archangel to all except government traffic. This may indicate that other troop movements from Archangel to the western front are either under way or in contemplation.

PARIS, April 20.—A strong force of Russian troops disembarked at Marseilles at noon today. The Russians are to fight beside the allied soldiers in France.

General Joffre welcomed the Russians in an order of the day, saying their arrival was nothing striking proof of the devotion of Russia to the common cause.

GERMAN ALLIANCE SENDS TELEGRAMS

Organizations Take Similar Action in Numerous
Other Cities.

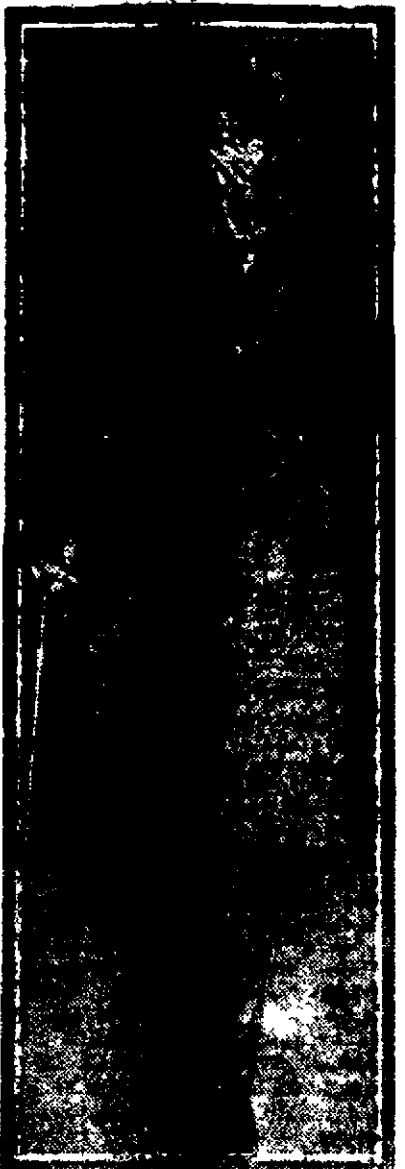

A peace meeting, to which all Lima citizens interested in the preservation of diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany, are invited, will be held this evening at Maenmerch Hall, East North street.

Val Heil, president of the German Alliance of this city last night received a telegram from John Schwab, president of the state alliance, located in Cincinnati, asking that telegrams be sent to Senator Theodore Burton, Senator Warren G. Harding and Representative J. E. Russell, to prevent if possible a breach in the relations of United States and Germany.

According to Heil, telegrams of the same nature have been sent to heads of the alliance in all of the cities in the state, asking national representatives of the state to prevent if possible, war with Germany. It is the opinion of members of the alliance that negotiations between the two countries have reached a crisis and that the ultimate result of the controversy in regard to the submarine issue will be war.

From the size of the organization in this city, it is likely telegrams will swamp national representatives at Washington from all parts of the United States. Although this is not the first time that the organization throughout the country has taken issue with national representatives in regard to breaking off relations between the countries, never before has there been such a country-wide demonstration by the organization.

WOLF VON IGEL.

When Wolf von Igel, secretary to the dismissed Captain von Pape, who was German military attaché in Washington, was arrested on an indictment charging him with conspiracy to blow up the Welland canal, he fought the federal secret service men. They took him, under a warrant, in the case von Pape had once occupied 40 Wall street, in New York.

"I am a member of the German embassy staff," he cried. "This will mean war with Germany."

NEW YORK, April 20.—The documents seized by federal authorities in the office of Wolf von Igel, return of which has been demanded by Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, remain today in a safe in the office of the United States district attorney.

Before returning any of them to the German ambassador forwarding them to Washington for that purpose District Attorney Marshall has sent to Washington photographic copies of all of them in order that the German ambassador may determine.

WILLYS-OVERLAND SHOP RAISES WAGES

TOLEDO, O., April 20.—Notice was posted today in the Willys-Overland automobile factory that wages of all employees will be increased voluntarily June 1. The increase will benefit seventeen thousand employees and, the company announces the annual pay roll will be $14,300,000. All employees receiving 25 cents or less per hour will be advanced 10 per cent, between 25 and 30 cents, seven per cent and over 30 cents four per cent. In addition the number of weekly working hours is decreased from 50 to 48 with pay for 50 hours.

BREAK WITH GERMANY WOULD MEAN CESSATION OF BUSINESS RELATIONS

Breaking off of diplomatic relations between Germany and the United States would be accomplished in this way, state department officials say.

The United States would cable Ambassador Gerard at Berlin to ask the German government for his passports.

The state department would send German Ambassador Bernstorff's passports to his embassy, with notice to depart from the country.

All American consular and diplomatic representatives in Germany would be notified to return to the United States.

All German consular and diplomatic representatives in the United States would be asked to leave the country.

American interests in Germany would be entrusted to the representative of some neutral nation. German interests in the United States would be taken care of in the same way.

THERE WOULD BE NO DECLARATION OF WAR, AND A STATE OF WAR WOULD NOT EXIST. THE UNITED STATES WOULD NOT DECLARE WAR UNTIL GERMANY COMMITTED SOME HOSTILE ACT AIMED DIRECTLY AT THIS GOVERNMENT.

BOND ISSUE LOGIC. 12—PUBLIC HEALTH IS AT STAKE.

While the proposed water works improvement bonds will not add one cent of cost to the city taxes, it is also an assured fact that it will add no cost to the water rates to water consumers, there is still another fact that presents an excellent argument in favor of this proposed improvement—the public health. For many years the state board of health has warned and threatened Lima because of the danger of typhoid fever epidemics. The installation of a filtration plant, as is provided for in the ordinance contemplating the bond issue, will end all this controversy and will give Lima water for commercial and domestic purposes that will be both pure and soft; the kind of water that is recommended by all health and boiler experts.

In addition to having water that is both good for home and factory use, the improvement will put an end to the necessity of buying water from private corporations and individuals for table use.

ELEVEN DIE WHEN STORM HITS WEST

Tornadoes Sweep Eastern
Kansas and Missouri, Spreading Ruin.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 20.—Eleven persons were reported dead today and scores injured, several seriously in a succession of tornadoes which swept through the central portion of eastern Kansas and western Missouri last night. Property damage is believed to be heavy, although accurate information was unavailable early today because of disabled telegraph and telephone service. The storm areas centered north of Topeka and in a line running from the southwestern corner of Wilson county in Kansas across the Missouri line in the border counties.

The reported dead are:
Fort Scott, Kansas—Mrs. Miller; Baby Hixon.

Rich Hill, Mo.—Ruth Fairbanks, 7 years old.

Rockville, Mo., Dr. C. P. Bowden, of Appleton City, Mo.

Abilene, Kansas—Elmer Packard, of Enterprise, Kansas, killed while trying to outrun the storm by automobile overturning.

Six persons are reported dead and about fifty injured in Stover, Morgan county, Mo., with the town laid in ruins as the result of a tornado last night. A special train was sent from Eldon, Mo., to the relief of the stricken populace of Stover. Among other damages the railway station is said to have been blown across the track blocking traffic.

OLDEST TEACHER DIES.

CHICAGO, April 20.—Miss Harriet N. Winchell, Chicago's oldest school teacher, died of heart disease last night while seated in her automobile in front of her home here. Miss Winchell, who was 79 years old, started teaching when 19 and served in Chicago schools continuously since that time. It is estimated that 75,000 children received their early instruction under her direct supervision.

Serious Aspect of Situation Beginning to Command Attention of General Public

ATTITUDE IS FAVORED

Bernstorff Is Optimistic and Hopes For An Amicable Adjustment of Disputes Over U-Boat Warfare

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador went to the state department today for a conference with Secretary Lansing on the submarine warfare situation and also to discuss the arrest in New York of Wolf von Igel, secretary of former German military attaché von Pape.

Secretary Lansing and the German ambassador were in conference fully 20 minutes. After the ambassador had left the secretary of state would make no statement regarding the discussion which took place.

After the conference, it was learned that German diplomats regard the receipt of a reply from Germany within two or three days as physically impossible. It was thought a reply could not be received here before ten days.

Ambassador Bernstorff refused to discuss his conversation with Secretary Lansing but indicated his call was not prompted by the arrival of instructions from his government.

Regarding the hope held by German officials here for an amicable settlement, one official described the prospect as a "toss up."

Secretary Lansing explained in detail to the German ambassador the position of the United States and is understood to have expressed the sincere hope that the attitude of the German government would be so adjusted as to meet the position taken by the United States.

The ambassador was understood to have informed the secretary of the details of a message he sent yesterday to his government making certain recommendations which he believed if acceptable to his government would be satisfactory to the United States.

In addition the ambassador informed the secretary of a message of a highly confidential nature he had received from Berlin.

Last night Count Von Bernstorff appeared hopeful that some way would be found to prevent a break of relations. His manner today indicated that he was not so sanguine.

After returning to the embassy Count Von Bernstorff prepared a long dispatch which probably will be sent to his government before night. The ambassador was authoritatively represented as having sought the secretary's views in regard to a tentative proposal that Germany issue immediately a declaration covering all submarine operations similar to that issued on January 7 for the operations in the Mediterranean. How the suggestion was received was not divulged but the general belief is that no step will be considered until some direct response from Berlin has been received by the secretary of state.

Letters praising President Wilson's position on the submarine issue reached the White House today from practically every state in the Union. The president read them carefully and also read editorial comments in newspapers in all parts of the country.

LONDON COMMENDS WILSON

English Papers Regard Note to Germany as Ultimatum.

LONDON, April 20.—Although recent despatches from America had led the British public to expect a sharp note from the United States to Germany in regard to the submarine controversy, the language employed by President Wilson in his address to congress came as something of a surprise. The evening newspapers generally refer to the note as an ultimatum pointing out that although no date for a reply has been fixed, Germany is expected to send its answer by the end of the week.

Opinion is divided as to what attitude Germany will adopt. Some of the newspapers take the view that public opinion will compel the Berlin government to refuse to comply with the demands of the United States. Others are equally certain Germany will abandon indiscriminate submarine warfare rather than sever relations with the greatest of the neutral powers.

The note had little effect on the stock market, which was steady at the opening. Little stock was offered, this being the last day before the Easter holidays. Many members of the exchange already have left town and business is extremely limited. So far as American stocks

WHAT'S IN A DATE?

President Wilson's eventual address in congress yesterday, April 19, recalled these important dates in American history:
April 19, 1775—End of Paul Revere's ride and battle of Lexington.
April 19, 1861—First gun of the civil war.
April 19, 1914—Huerta called on to salute American flag before 6 o'clock p. m.

are concerned there is now little business in them owing to the restrictions imposed by the government. It is noted the treasury has made hardly any changes in the buying prices.

The Westminster Gazette says: "President Wilson's message to congress is a serious, high-toned document which benefits the occasion." Referring to the president's warning, this newspaper adds:

"Language of this kind between great powers does not leave open a wide choice of courses of action. Germany is given the alternative of abandoning its submarine warfare or ceasing to retain the friendliness of the United States. The tone of the message forbids in the latter more than the mechanical wrath of diplomatic relations."

In concluding its article, the Westminster Gazette says President Wilson has mapped out for himself a line of action which admits of no retreat.

OHIO PRESS BACKS WILSON

Buckeye Papers Comment Favorable to President's Stand.

SPRINGFIELD DAILY NEWS.—But whatever the present situation means, it is up to Germany; whatever follows will be her doing, and the responsibility must be with her. Our case is made; our decision is rendered; our last word in the matter has been uttered. We await with patience, and with prayers, for the next step in this crisis.

NEWARK ADVOCATE.—President Wilson has spoken and the word carries the thunder; of an impatient public, which is behind the written ultimatum as well as the spirit which inspired it.

DAYTON NEWS.—We can but trust that the Imperial German government will recognize the demands which this country makes, since those demands are based upon laws to which Germany herself has all along been a party. But, please God, we shall stand by the president of the United States, let come what may.

AKRON TIMES.—Back of the president in the latest crisis stand the masses of the American people, who, convinced that he has done, is doing, his best to keep their country out of the world war, will support him as unflinchingly and reverently as they stand by their nation's flag, and they follow him with loyalty along any path way that his exalted sense of duty may impel him to lead.

PORTSMOUTH TIMES.—The time for talk in regard to the right of neutrals on the high seas and the violations of the same by submarine commanders, has passed. It is now time for action. We are a peace-loving people but should a show-down come, and, if it becomes a question as to this country and any other country, we are all Americans. There will be no standing back if the worst comes to the worst. We have that high opinion of the president, of his love for peace, that we believe he will welcome half an opportunity for a amicable adjustment of the submarine question.

U. S. WILL HOLD GERMAN DOCUMENTS

Persons who have seen the papers say they do not believe Count Von Bernstorff will admit that any are official records. The papers are described as constituting "the largest haul made by the government since the activities of the agents of the Central powers in this country were first uncovered."

As a result of the seizure of these papers, it was said today the complete operations of an alleged Teutonic spy system in America will be revealed, including the names of the alleged directors of plots to destroy commerce and of men who obtained secret information for that purpose.

District Attorney Marshall said that, even if it should be proved that the papers are valuable to the German embassy, the government will contend for the right to inspect them and, if necessary, use any which are not proved to be official embassy documents.

It is reported that the contents of some of the documents already have been communicated to a federal grand jury.

Von Igel is still held on bail to answer to the charge of complicity in the Welland canal plot.

RUSSIAN FORCE JOINS ALLIES ON WEST LINE

As a result of the seizure of German and Austrian subjects aboard the China mail liner China last February while bound from Shanghai for the United States the intelligence department of the British government claims to have uncovered a plot of immense ramifications conducted with the purpose of causing a revolution in India.

The American headquarters of the plotters is said to be on the Pacific coast. At least one ship is known to have sailed from San Francisco with a German crew and Indian conspirators and arms on board.

The headquarters of the plot in the Orient was at Shanghai and when the gun-running and other machinations were uncovered, according to the authorities here, the plotters set sail for Manila aboard the steamship China.

The leaders of the plot seized on the China are said to have had in their possession false passports which they destroyed. The British officials say they believed that Franz Bopp, the German consul general at San Francisco, and other persons under federal indictment there, participated in the plot.

DIVORCE PETITION FILED.

Lavinia Whitehead today filed suit against Ralph Whitehead, to whom she was married October 9, 1915, at Wapakoneta. They have one child, Ralph, Jr., 7 months old.

She says he failed to provide her home, care, food and clothing, and that she sought the factory to procure a living. She says he makes good wages, but spends them for liquor.

She asks for the custody of the child, permanent and temporary alimony and attorney fees to prosecute the case.

Whitehead is now said to be in Hancock county.

The Rev. W. W. Constlin will preach at Epworth M. E. church this evening at 7:30 o'clock. The pastor will preach tomorrow night, closing the Passion week services.

Hugh Mundy, of 776 South Union street, was injured late last night when an automobile in which he was riding along with two other men struck a lamp post at the corner of Elm and McDonel streets. The impact of the collision bent the post to the ground and demolished the left rear wheel of the automobile.

'DOPE' USERS GROW DESPERATE WHEN SUPPLY IS DENIED

Latest Attempt at Robbery is Made upon Office of Physician.

"Fiends" Are Being Watched by Police and Federal Agents.

Police were informed this morning of the attempted entrance into the office of Dr. R. D. Kahle, last night. The thieves were either frightened away or wear frustrated in their attempt to force the door with a jimmy because of the strength of the lock, as the door was fastened when the physician arrived at his office in the morning. However, imprints of the jimmy were plainly visible along the edge of the door-way. Nothing on the inside of the office was molested.

Police are of the opinion that the job was attempted by the same parties that ransacked the offices of Drs. Woodcock and S. M. Mummaugh and the Cramer drug store. Woodcock's office was entered Monday night and a quantity of drug, a hypodermic syringe and a number of other articles taken. The other two places were entered Tuesday night.

From the manner in which all of the bottles in both places were overturned it is believed that it is work of some of the local drug "fiends."

Since the arrest and conviction of Atkinson and Hosick a short time ago, local drug users have been unable to obtain a supply and are forced to go without it unless they are able to steal a quantity. Previous to the arrest of the local men, a "dope peddler" from St. Marys was supplying Lima narcotic users. He obtained the "dope" at Toledo and sold it in this part of the state. Shortly following his arrest, which cut off the supply, Atkinson and Hosick made a desperate attempt to obtain drugs which resulted in their arrest. They were tried in the Toledo federal court, and sentenced to serve a term in the federal prison at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.

All of the known "dope" users in the city are to be placed under surveillance by the police department in an attempt to locate the parties that have attempted to obtain narcotics from the offices of local doctors. A complete list of these that were taken to the temporary hospital maintained by the city, for persons addicted to the use of narcotics, shortly after the Harrison law went into effect, is kept in the police department.

It is feared by members of the police department that the clutching grip which drugs hold on their victims will result in disastrous crime unless the users are placed in some institution where they can be taken care of in the proper manner. The four attempts within the last three days to obtain narcotics is an indication of the desperate end they will go to obtain it, police say.

WARREN CITY HALL WRECKED BY FIRE

WARREN, O., April 20.—The Warren city hall caught fire early today, supposedly from a defective fuse. The fire had destroyed the third and fourth floors and was threatening the whole building when the local fire department's pump failed and the engine was unable to throw water above the second floor. The local authorities summoned the Niles fire department to help fight the blaze. A heavy rain helped the fire departments to control the fire. Three floors and attic were completely destroyed with a loss of $40,000. Valuable papers and furniture were saved. The building probably will be razed.

Stone has successfully evaded arrest previously. He pleaded not guilty to the charge and his trial was set for May 2. Stone is out on $1,000 bond.

PROSPERITY FAVORS LIMA TAXPAYERS

Delinquent List Half What It Was One Year Ago.

Statistics compiled by City Auditor David L. Rupert show that the delinquent tax list is less than half what it was a year ago, or lower than at any previous report.

Property owners owe Lima $2,344.31, as compared with $5,181.39 in 1915. The taxes are due on or before April 1, and the figures cited are for April 20 of each year. Adding in a total of $234.39 for penalties and the taxes due under the new law for street assessments, the city stands creditor to various citizens for the sum of $11,934.91.

This is taken to indicate the growing prosperity of the city, for delinquent taxes are to an appreciable degree a key to the financial status of the citizens generally. The remarkable reduction shows that money is coming into Lima and is circulating among the taxpayers after arrival.

James A. Grubb, the tenor of the International Operatic Quartet, has just returned from a coast to coast concert tour with his organization, and with his wife, who is the accompanist for the quartet, is spending a few days with his parents near Harrod. Mr. Grubb is Allen county's greatest lyric tenor. While in Lima he was a member of the choir of the First Baptist church and by reason of his beautiful voice became a favorite with Lima music lovers. He will sing at that church next Sunday at the morning service. He will assist in the special music, singing a solo in one of the Easter anthems. At the 4 o'clock Vesper service Mr. Grubb will assist the Mendelssohn Male and Mixed choruses, singing incidental solos in the numbers for those choirs and will sing a fine Easter solo, "Hosanna" by Jules Garner.

Mr. Grubb and his estimable wife leave early in May for concerts in Los Angeles and other California cities.

LEE DIVORCE TRIAL BEFORE THE COURT

The divorce case of Dottie against Kenneth Lee opened in court this afternoon at 1 o'clock before Judge William Klingner. The couple were married in Greenville, Ill., January 29, 1902. They have two children Violet, 11 years old, living with her mother in Lima, and Kenneth, 7, residing with relatives in Greenville. The wife sets forth that since her marriage, she was compelled to support herself and children, while Lee spent his money in dissipation. In the year 1911, while they lived in Marysville, she said he spent his money to clothes and sought amusements, neglecting his family. She says she took in boarders and did washings to provide for her little ones. She sought aid of relatives on January 25, 1912, and was taken home.

Since this time the two have lived separate. She also states that he abused and assaulted her and while ill, he refused her care and tried to keep the children from giving her aid in time of sickness.

Lee sought to prove his wife neglected her household duties to attend shows, dances and parties. He says she shows him no love or kindness.

The wife asks for the custody of the two children. Lee wishes still to keep the little boy, who has been with him.

He came here from Greenville, Ill., to contest the case.

BOND ISSUES GAIN STRENGTH DAILY

Prejudices Are Being Removed by Public Discussion of Question.

Each day of the educational campaigns that are being conducted in behalf of the proposed street, river and water works improvement bond issues seems to bring more citizens and voters into favor of the proposed advancement of Lima.

So far, every objection that has been raised against the bond issues seems to be founded on lack of sufficient information on one or another of the issues or upon pure and unadulterated prejudices. People are coming to the realization that bond issues, such as are proposed at this time, with Lima in the condition it is, are not debts, but investments. They are grasping the sentiment and a knowledge of the fact that the improvements contemplated will serve to so increase the valuations of properties to be improved and that the tax duplicate will increase the tax income to such an extent that the properties not directly benefitted will not suffer any increase in taxes worth mentioning.

Last night's public meetings at the Calumet avenue and Reece avenue school buildings, like those at the Solar Refinery and Garford motor truck plant yesterday noon, were of a nature that gave further encouragement to the citizens who are devoting time and energy to the cause for a greater and better Lima. At both meetings a number of pertinent questions were asked and satisfactorily answered and the voters who were present readily declared that they would join in the movement to carry the issues at the election next Tuesday.

At noon today a meeting was held at the Gramm-Bernstein motor truck works and this afternoon Mayor Simpson and Scott Wilkins talked to the pupils at Lima High school, where civic government is now being made one of the subjects of study.

Tonight there will be public meetings in the Garfield school building, at High and Pine streets, and at the Irving building on Grand avenue. Tomorrow evening there will be meetings at the Emerson building, North Jefferson street, and at the Lincoln building, Vine and Elizabeth street, while on Saturday evening, the weather permitting, Scott Wilkins will deliver a series of speeches on the Public Square.

UNITED STATES IS GAINING IN LATIN AMERICA

American Firm Gets $5,000,000 Contract in Paraguay Recently.

TRADE MUST BE HELD

South America Breaking Away From Control by Europeans.

Frederic J. Haskin.
OUR PROGRESS IN LATIN AMERICA
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 13.—A short time ago an American firm was awarded a contract worth nearly five million dollars to the building of port works at Asuncion, Paraguay. Ten years ago an English or a French company would in all probability have done the work. The incident is one of many current indications that the United States is gaining a business foothold in Latin America.

We have undoubtedly won a place in Latin-American trade. Now another question arises. Can we hold this business when the European war is over, and the great industrial nations of that continent re-enter the market?

This is a question of the utmost importance to the commercial future of the United States. The Latin-American trade means far more to us than an opportunity for the individual to make money. It is a national opportunity for the United States to take her place as one of the foremost commercial nations of the world.

The average American citizen, full of copy-book patriotism, is apt to exclaim that we are already that, and he will point to the immense value of our exports as conclusive proof. As a matter of fact we are just beginning to be a first rate force in international trade. Before the beginning of the European war, a large proportion of our exports were raw material or partly manufactured goods. Now, it is a fundamental principle of international trade that the more highly manufactured the goods exported, the more value they represent to the producing nation; and the most efficient and powerful nation is the one which most completely manufactures all of its products. Thus a ton of iron ore shipped out of the United States means that this country is being paid a profit only on the operation of mining it, and that the far greater profit upon making it into machinery will be earned by another nation. On the other hand, every sewing machine that we export means that we have made every possible penny of profit out of the few pounds of material that we have put into it.

Not only miners, but steel mill workers, skilled mechanics, wood workers, finishers, painters, have all been paid by foreign countries for the making of that machine, and only a few pounds of raw material have been sold.

In a word, to become a first-class industrial power, we must learn to manufacture all of our goods to the highest possible degree. The immense quantities of cotton, wool, lumber and naval stores which we annually export are a national waste to us, and money in the pockets of our competitors.

Before we can attain to this highly organized and profitable condition we must have a market for our manufactures. Necessarily the greater part of this market will be in less highly organized countries, and of these, Latin-America is the nearest, greatest and wealthiest. Latin-America is our natural and rightful field in which to achieve our destiny in international trade, and the European war has given us an unparalleled opportunity to enter it.

Statistics tell only a part of the story. In the Argentine, which is farthest away, and the industrial stronghold of Great Britain in Latin-America, we have more than doubled our share of the trade. In 1914 we had 13.4 per cent of it, and in 1915 28.5 per cent. Furthermore, we have loaned immense sums of money in the Argentine, and trade always follows the loan. It was England's loan and investments in the Argentine that gained her a large share of Argentine business. Now, by her orders in council, she has prohibited the lending of any money outside her realm. Not long ago the Argentine government needed 50 million dollars, and turned to the United States for the money. British bankers protested, and finally half of the loan was placed in Great Britain and half in the United States. The British bankers disposed of the bonds with difficulty, the Americans with ease.

In all branches of business, Americans are coming to the fore. Several large contracts have been awarded American firms by great South American municipalities.

American meat packers are rapidly extending their facilities in Brazil and the Argentine. Americans are building South American railways. In countries where the English gauge and rail were rapidly becoming the standard before the war, the American measurements are in a fair way to do so now. Our progress in Latin America has been thus summarized by William C. Wells, statesman of the Pan-American Union.

"We have extended our Latin-American trade to lines that we never before sold in those countries. We have taken up all of the business dropped by Germany and Austria, and have gained upon Great Britain."

"What share of this trade we will hold after the European war," he adds, "depends entirely upon our efficiency in manufacturing and distributing."

This last question as to what share of the trade gained during the war we will hold after the making of peace, is the one of greatest present importance. The war has made us for the time being a great manufacturing nation. What part of our sudden growth has the mushroom quality? The munition business is necessarily temporary. Much of the trade in foodstuffs and fabrics to the warring nations must also be greatly curtailed after the war. But in Latin America, the demand will not be greatly modified. The chief difference will be that the European nations, with great debts to pay, will face us in keen competition.

One fallacy entertained by many Americans is that these nations will be too weakened to be formidable. The testimony of all experts, and the precedents of history are against this conclusion. Horrible war is, from a social and humanitarian point of view, and too cruel a price to pay for any boon, but it has almost invariably acted as an industrial stimulus. Europe will lay down arms, and take up business, better organized, better disciplined, hardened and trained in body, grimly determined in spirit.

Our skill as manufacturers, and our organization for selling will be severely tested. Only those industries which can produce a better article for the money, and are organized to hold the market, will win out. This is the opinion of the trade experts. They believe that in some lines, such as iron and steel manufactures, we will hold every inch we have gained. In others we must inevitably lose. These losses, however, will be valuable as a lesson in the need for national organization and policy in foreign trade relations.

Meanwhile, what of the countries we are dealing with? They are progressing for more rapidly than we are. Their populations are multiplying at an unprecedented rate. They are at once pushing a long frontier into a rich wilderness, and building up a metropolitan civilization. Buenos Ayres is now one of the great cities of the world. It has been estimated that at the present rate of increase, in 15 years it will be greater than Chicago and become the second American city.

All the strength of these lusty young countries is going into building and conquering nature. They are looking to us for funds and tools with which to work. If we are to share in their brilliant future, and realize the Pan American ideal, we must not fail them.

Pains and Aches Caused by Kidneys

Many women attribute ailments and suffering to some disease peculiar to their sex, when often the pain and misery is caused by weak or deranged kidneys. Household, office work or factory work may start the trouble, and dizzy spells, puffiness under eyes, sore muscles, stiff joints, discolored or scanty urine, sleep disturbing bladder ailments, rheumatism or diabetes may result. When the kidneys are strong and healthy they filter out from the blood the poisonous waste matter. When they are sluggish or overworked they need a medicine to clean them out and invigorate action. Foley Kidney Pills are prepared expressly for the purpose of dissolving all poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles and to cleanse and strengthen stopped-up, inactive kidneys. Thousands of men and women in all parts of the country testify to the wonderfully satisfactory results they have had from taking Foley Kidney Pills.

WILSON'S ULTIMATUM TO GERMANY IS CLEAR

High points in American note sent to Germany which may bring break of diplomatic relations:

If it is still the purpose of the imperial government to prosecute relentless and indiscriminate warfare against vessels of commerce by the use of submarines without regard to what the government of the United States must consider the sacred and indisputable rules of international law and the universally recognized dictates of humanity, the government of the United States is at last forced to the conclusion that there is but one course it can pursue.

Unless the imperial government should now immediately declare and effect an abandonment of its present methods of submarine warfare against passenger and freight-carrying vessels, the government of the United States can have no choice but to sever diplomatic relations with the German empire altogether.

Again and again the imperial government has given its solemn assurance to the government of the United States that at least passenger-ships would not be thus dealt with (sunk without warning), and yet it has repeatedly permitted its unders—a commanders to disregard those assurances with entire impunity.

A careful, detailed and scrupulously impartial investigation by naval and military officers of the United States has conclusively established the fact that the Sussex was torpedoed without warning or summons to surrender and that the torpedo by which she was struck was of German manufacture.

If the sinking of the Sussex had been an isolated case, the government of the United States might find it possible to hope that the officer who was responsible for that act had willfully violated his orders or had been criminally negligent in taking none of the precautions they prescribed, and that the ends of justice might be satisfied by imposing upon him an adequate punishment, coupled with a formal disavowal of the act and payment of a suitable indemnity by the imperial government.

But, though the attack upon the Sussex was manifestly indefensible and caused a loss of life so tragical as to make it stand forth as one of the most terrible examples of the inhumanity of submarine warfare as the commanders of German vessels are conducting it, it unhappily does not stand alone.

ALARMIST TALK

At no time during the present war has the truth been more apparent that irresponsible talk is dynamite. At no time have we been closer to trouble, for while events in rapid succession have several times threatened the peace of the nation, it is plain that cool judgment is more imperative now than at any previous crisis.

If the United States is to enter a war it will be reluctantly. We seek no trouble and if trouble comes, it will not be of our making. President Wilson's ultimatum, based on humanitarian principles and bolstered up by international agreements to the support of which Germany herself is pledged, places the responsibility for any possible breaches of relationship upon the Imperial Government.

A breach is merely the unleashing of the sword, not the use thereof. When one nation breaks with another it displays the point of the weapon, and if the second nation is injured it is because it rushes against the steel. Such would be the case if Germany invited hostilities by obstinacy.

We do not believe that further trouble will come, for the kaiser must have sense to know that he has one man's job on his hands as matters stand. The tenacity with which Joffre hangs on to Verdun ought to be sufficient evidence of the fact. We sincerely hope that an amicable adjustment will be reached, but the United States' patience is running low, and we have obtained about all there is to be obtained by diplomacy.

At such a time there should be no Democrats, no Republicans, no partisans of any kind. Militarists and jingos say Mr. Wilson has been too lenient with Germany. Pacifists and anti-preparedness exponents say he has been too harsh. That is complete vindication of his middle course.

But ill-considered talk will do more harm than anything else. Blatant utterances will hasten trouble if there is to be trouble, and serious consequences may be avoided by common-sense and sanity. Avoid opinions expressed in the heat of passion. Avoid wild fanaticism and demagoguery. Turn your back on the sidewalk statesman who wants war, for extreme remarks will lead to riots.

The president is a calm, sane, judicial individual who has used every honorable means to prevent a breach with Germany. That he will continue to do so is insured by his past record. He is surrounded by statesmen who know more international law, more diplomacy and more patience than any one you are liable to meet on the street. Leave it to Woodrow Wilson to avert trouble if there is any way in which to accomplish it. But above all, remember that indiscreet talk, wild partisanship and assumptions based on ignorance will do more harm than anything else can do.

"JINGO"

Ultra-pacifists are touring the country with a great beast called the ichthyosaurus or the dinosaur or some such name for the correct spelling of which we will not shoulder the responsibility. It is a good specimen, we are told, although that too, we will have to take for granted as we never saw a real ich or din. It has been extinct for several eons and maybe a few aeons as well—scientists will have to stand sponsor for that. But it is cited as an argument for opposing the preparedness program.

"This mammoth beast," say the pacifists, "is extinct because he was all armor and no brains. He was prepared—look at his coat of mail. But there aren't any now. His name is 'Jingo.' Vote against Wilson."

From this it would appear that Ichabod or Dimmy, or what you will choose to call the mammoth in question, is not the only one on the peace train devoid of brains. If there is an argument in the spectacle it is a preparedness argument and a strong one.

The animal was armed only with natural protection. He made no preparations against the changing forces of nature. Evolution was too deep for him. He failed to realize that conditions change, and that any wise creature will keep up with the times. For his protection he relied entirely on natural defenses. Ergo, he is extinct.

The same ostrich-like obsession prevails among the Henry Fords and other specimens of deluded pacifism. If they could prevail the nation would be like "Jingo," and would probably suffer the same fate as this ich-etc. or din-etc., or whatever its name may be. That nation would be armed only with natural protection—two oceans, one Rio Grande and five Great Lakes. It would make no preparations against the changing modes of warfare. Modern armament would too deep for it. It would fail to realize that guns increase in calibre and in the lengths of their trajectories, and that any wise nation will keep up with the times. For protection it would rely only on natural defenses. Requiescat in pace.

Yes, there is an argument in the extinct relic. "Jingo" is a fine old ruin, but he speaks a sermon louder than words. It is not the one which the ultra-pacifists present, however. They have misinterpreted the lesson which he reveals. His moral is not anti-preparedness, but the opposite.

THE FABLE OF THE BOND ISSUE

Once upon a Time there was a moss-covered Denizen of a growing City who thought he had done all the thinking there was to be done. He voted for Blaine far into the Twentieth Century, refusing to accept the Doctrine that the World moves. His Policy was: "Let Good Enough Alone."

This Individual neglected his Barn, declined to paint his Abode, opposed Road Improvement and thought he was Saving Taxes. His property fell away in Value and he cursed the Government.

One Day this Individual came Face to Face with Progress. The latter was in his Path and there was no Chance to Sidestep. She wore a beautiful Cloak made of Bonds. Bonds suggested Taxes, so he turned back and refused to proceed on the path of Prosperity.

Instead of voting for Improvements which would make his Property double in Value, he showed his mossy Teeth and said that there was a Graft somewhere. He could not specify the exact Location of the Graft. His Neighbors said he was a Jackass.

MORAL: Sheriff's Sale in front of the Court House.

Some of the jingos who say Wilson is afraid to show firmness will confer a favor if they do the logical thing and enlist with the Entente allies. Anybody who is itching to fight Germany ought to go over to Verdun and do it.

If every man who poses as an authority on the international crisis had a job aiding the administration the cabinet would be about as large as a national convention.

You may have noticed that Senator Gore and Representative McLa more did not try to interrupt the president while he was reading his message.

The man with a criticism of the president's foreign policy is not generally the one who has an international reputation for statesmanship.

GOOD EVENING: Preparedness begins at home—the bond issues will assure it.

NEW NOTES FROM MOVIELAND

By DAISY DEAN

IT WAS found necessary to charter an ocean liner recently for the spectacular fire-scene in the Gaumont Mutual Masterpiece, "The Isle of Love." Edwin Middleton is directing the story at Jacksonville, Florida, with Gertrude McCoy as the star. Iva Shepard and Earl C. Schenck are prominent in her support. In the action of the fire scenes, Miss McCoy, Mr. Schenck, and more than a hundred extra people, were called upon to jump from the smoking vessel into the water. Strange to relate, when it came to the filming Director Middleton's "exposure stuff," the weather on the chosen day was gently mild and warmly smiling. The previous week had been cold and gloomy.

Miss Young to be a Busy Person
When the Clara Kimball Young Film Corporation begins the production of its features on July 15 with Miss Young as the star, what is said to be an innovation in picture making will be introduced. Miss Young has worked out a plan by which she can produce two features simultaneously.

Two directors will be selected, and their work so scheduled that, while one is having sets built on the studio floor for some of his interior scenes,

Clear, Peachy Skin Awaits Anyone Who Drinks Hot Water

Says an inside bath, before breakfast fast helps us look and feel clean, sweet, fresh.

Sparkling and vivacious—merry, bright, alert—a good, clear skin and a natural, rosy, healthy complexion are assured only by pure blood. If only every man and woman could be induced to adopt the morning inside bath, what gratifying change would take place. Instead of the thousands of sickly, anemic-looking men, women and girls, with pasty or muddy complexions; instead of the multitudes of "nerve wrecks," "rundowns," "brain fags" and pessimists we should see a virile, optimistic throng of rosy-cheeked people everywhere.

An inside bath is had by drinking each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and ten yards of bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, sour fermentations and poisons, thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Those subject to sick headache, biliousness, nasty breath, rheumatism, colds; and particularly those who have a pallid, sallow complexion and who are constipated very often, are urged to obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to demonstrate the quick and remarkable change in both health and appearance, awaiting those who practice internal sanitation. We must remember that inside cleanliness is more important than outside, because the skin does not absorb impurities to contaminate the blood while the pores in the thirty feet of bowels do.

Gertrude McCoy.
This widely known actress, who has been a prominent Edison star for a number of years, recently joined the Gaumont forces at Jacksonville, Florida. Her first Gaumont picture, released next month, will be "The Isle of Love."

Miss Young will be out on location working with the other director in another picture. Lewis J. Selznick, president and general manager of the new corporation, in discussing the plan, pointed out that it will thus be possible to finish twelve feature films in a year.

"The Little Shepherd of Bargain Row," written by Howard McKent Barnes, will be one of the early five-reel releases of the Essanay company in May. It deals with the little girls of bargain row from whose lives the light and sunshine has been crushed out, and with the little shepherd who brings them out of their misfortune into clean green fields of open life.

Wayne Avery, the Thanhouser player, riding in the New York subway recently, had his pocket picked. Fortunately the "dip" missed the pocket with the wallet, his total amount of booty amounting to a roll of "stage" money.

"The Other Way" is another three-part Broadway Star feature which was filmed with a cast of players of the coast division, including Mary Anderson, Webster Campbell, Anne Schaefer, Otto Lederer and Corinne Griffith.

You are soon to see Florence Lawrence on the screen for the first time since she has "come back" in a Blue Bird production called "The Elusive Isabel."

HEALTH HINTS

APPETITE IS FINICKY AT BREAKFAST

Breakfast is, in many households, the most important meal of the day. The appetite is more apt to be finicky and difficult to please the first thing in the morning and one's nerves and desires are not always normal. All things considered, the first meal of the day, though not the heaviest, requires more thought and careful planning than any other.

The tendency of late years has been to get away from hearty breakfasts. One works better when the stomach is not overloaded. A light meal daintily served by a smiling housewife will do much to start the day right. Meat for breakfast has been widely discussed and will always result in a divided opinion.

Fruit, a cereal, salt meat or fish, eggs, hot bread, pancakes or waffles and coffee—six dishes in all, which may be less if desired but never more. All six form a breakfast sufficiently hearty for a hired man and one or two are left enough to tempt the most earnest devotee of the "no breakfast" fad.

It is a poor breakfast, however, where fruit or cereal is omitted. Even in winter it is not difficult to secure variety in fruit with the selection of dried and canned fruit, always at hand.

Many are the ways of combining fruit with cereal for breakfast and dessert. Attractive dishes thus made are gaining in popularity. Cornmeal mush with luscious California raisins, flaky cereals with fresh strawberries, raspberries or blueberries, canned peaches, sliced bananas, prunes or figs, are only a few of these interesting combinations.

Refrigerator is Necessity

"Don't you think we ought to go and see about an ice box?" Bob asked.

He told the driver to go to THE HOOVER-ROUSH FURNITURE STORE. It was getting along after 4 o'clock and they were very much pleased when they found Mr. Roush ready to wait on them at once. They were taken to inspect a row of ice boxes of various sizes. They thought one that would hold a hundred pounds would be about right.

"We handle only the best lines," said the proprietor, as he opened the door of a very handsome box, and lifted out the trays to explain its features.

"Now here is one," he said, "that is complete in every detail and can be kept absolutely spotless with but very little trouble. I always take a great deal of pleasure in selling this one because it has given so much satisfaction to our customers."

Bob stepped back and looked it over critically. "What price is that one?" he asked.

"$16.50," said Mr. Roush.

"Well that seems to suit very well, and suppose we take it," said Grace, "Can you send it up to 48 McKinley St?"

"Right away. We make a special effort to deliver promptly everything that is bought here," Mr. Roush went on.

They studied their lists as they passed through the store and out into the street.

Bride's Bouquet Comes Last

"Now there is just one thing more and that's the bridal bouquet. We will go up to E. N. ZETLITZ' FLORAL SHOP and get that."

Grace was so excited over the thought of an automobile and of winning their bet that she could scarcely settle herself in the machine. "This is the greatest experience that any girl has ever had," she said joyously. "Think of it—what it means to us with all this house and all these furnishings. I never dreamed of such good fortune."

Bob lit a cigarette and smoked in silence.

They were soon at the florists and Grace followed Bob in while he placed the order. "There is one thing we must insist on and that is that these flowers be taken up to 48 McKinley St., in three-quarters of an hour," he said.

"We will be able to do that all right," said the florist.

Bob ordered a shower bouquet of lillies of the valley and roses. "That's the conventional bride's bouquet," he remarked, turning to Grace.

"It certainly is sweet and they have lovely buds here," she answered.

"Now we better have a couple dozen of those American Beauties, and I wish you would fix up a big bowl full of sweet peas as a center piece."

Mr. Zetlitz entered the order as rapidly as possible and said, "We'll have the flowers there at the proper time," as he handed Grace a beautiful rosebud for immediate wear.

"My gracious Bob, we surely must give them a nice big order for those Easter flowers later this week," she said.

Bob Visits Ohio Dairy

"I believe I know the man coming there," exclaimed Bob, suddenly ordering the driver to bring the car to a stop along side of the curbing on North Main street. "Sure enough, it is my old friend Minnich," to the man who had hurried up to them at the sight of Bob. "Well, if this isn't too good to be true. Where did you come from and how long are you going to stay?"

asked Bob in one breath, after introducing the long lost friend to Mrs. Corson. "Stay? Why Great Scott man, I've been here for several years," answered Mr. Minnich. Both expressed their surprise that they had not run into each other all of this time. In reply to Bob's queries as to his occupation, Mr. Minnich informed him that he was managing the OHIO DAIRY CO., and cordially invited them in to see the process of making "Daisy Brand" butter, which the young people accepted at once, despite their great hurry. As the merits of Daisy brand butter were being explained, Bob could not restrain himself and said most enthusiastically, "Why Minnich, you need not tell us how good the butter is, as far as the taste is concerned, for 'Daisy Brand' is the only kind of butter we have used in our household for years, and in fact, it is the only butter wife and I care for."

"Well, everyone is getting of that opinion," asserted Minnich.

After a most enjoyable and instructive trip of inspection, they thanked Mr. Minnich most heartily for the opportunity of seeing how real good butter is made, and departed with an earnest invitation for Mr. Minnich to visit them in their new home.

Bob Lightens His Wife's Work

Silence prevailed for quite a period as they sped up the street for they both were thinking as hard as the human mind was capable, when suddenly Bob, in a moment of feeling and consideration, turned all of his thoughts toward the future comfort of his newly wedded.

"Dear," he said, all bubbling over with rapture, "I, for once, have taken my mind off the comforts and necessities for myself and beg to announce a great discovery."

"Impossible, you dear old boy, I think it is only of my happiness and comfort you are always thinking. But what is the cause of all the sudden commotion?"

"HOOVER-ROUSH COMPANY have been holding a demonstration this week on their Fireless Cookers, and they surely have been having some highly enjoyable times if I can believe all that my friends said, whose wives have attended and partaken of the dainties served. Think how nice that would be for you to cut up your chicken, put it in one compartment while potatoes, peas and corn are all cooking at the same time in other compartments. You don't have to touch it and it can't burn a single thing. Go to church and never worry about dinner and on the minute of your arrival home everything is ready to serve."

Bob's flow of eloquence was checked at this point by Grace, who mentioned the fact that the driver was opening the door for them to alight in front of the Hoover-Roush Co.

Once inside and the various sizes shown, they decided on a Fireless Cooker for $25.00, which was assured of delivery within the hour.

LIFE'S LADDERS

D YOU MAKE each calamity a ladder up which you climb to the topmost rung, till you, having gained that vantage point, feel that it is under your feet?

Unless we banish reproach of self after every test, every mistake even, and consider it as a step upwards toward spiritual growth, we lose the very benefit intended for us. The fact that we recognize our blunders, our lack of mental or moral strength proves that we are learning; and while we feel the pang of remorse and would give anything in the world to wipe out our sins, we gain nothing by continuous morbid broodings. Once we have grasped the enormity of our offense we must make our regret the first step toward action. We are facing a great opportunity—test of character—we should put lamentations, that never did any one the least good, behind us, and resolve to climb upwards by the ladder of mistakes until we are literally standing upon it and thus able to rise above our own self-created misery. Look back over the year—if you are able to see, now, that the trials that seemed too great to bear, were of benefit to you—you wouldn't go back and learn your lessons over, now would you—you have gained in spiritual growth. It is something to believe that the Supreme Being considers us BIG enough to meet big problems, isn't it, and that He believes us equal to the working out of our own salvation.

What a sense of victory when we feel our latest calamity under our feet, a firm foundation from which we are enabled to build the structures most dear to us—OUR LIVES

W. T. Stead's daughter, Estelle, has just taken the place of her brother, who joined the army some time ago, as editor of the Review of Reviews.

A girl in Fife, Scotland, is "doing extremely well," her father says, as plowman in place of her soldier brother.

At the Eton workhouse the barber's wife will shave the inmates while her husband fights for his country.

Mrs. William Wilson, Mrs. Malone, Mrs. Berry and Mrs. Baker were in charge of the lesson for the Missionary society of the Olivet Presbyterian church which met at the home of Mrs. A. DeLong yesterday afternoon. "Home Missions, Our National Force," was the title of the book the society is beginning to study. Devotions were in charge of Mrs. Charles Schraeder. A reading by Miss Mary Ring concluded the interesting program. The hostess served refreshments.

Mrs. J. S. Pursell and daughter Mary have returned from a visit in Lancaster with relatives.

Henry Wemmer, Jr., Benjamin Moulton, David Guess and Charles East were the dinner guests of John M. Boose, Jr., Tuesday. The dinner was given in honor of the 10th birthday anniversary of John Boose.

The idea of a different china for each dinner course is growing more popular. It certainly allows one to use novelties which would not be as attractive if whole sets of the same pattern were used. The delicate cream-colored Belock ware with pale-green crimped borders makes a delightful salad service. The blue willow ware is good for the entree or fish, for it has so many odd little covered baking dishes.

This fashion has brought about a revival of the old-time game set, with birds painted in the center of the platters and plates. The new ones, however, are done by handcrafters whose designs are far more beautiful than were the old-fashioned ones, and the designs are never duplicated.

Wimodaus club meeting has been postponed until Friday, April 28, at which time it will meet with Mrs. Ballis Simpson.

Marrying for Mone Y

BY MRS. EVA LEONARD

Jacob Townsend Puts to Test His Wife's Newly Professed Loyalty.

ORTRUDE sat reading to her husband. She had spent hours in the sick room since the day she stole in to ask forgiveness for her cold selfishness, and she seemed very anxious to help in the care of the sick man. Jacob was slowly getting better, though one side was wholly paralyzed and he could not speak. Hearing a peculiar sound, she glanced up from her book. Jacob motioned to her to come nearer the bed, and when she approached he began writing with his finger on the counterpane.

"Do you want paper and a pencil?" she asked. He nodded in assent. She brought a tablet and pencil and arranged a smooth place to lay it under his hand. She watched while the feeble fingers scrawled with effort the words "Sign the paper?" Ortrude could not read them at first, and while she was puzzling over the crooked characters Jacob kept his eyes on her, watching her eagerly.

"Sign the paper? Is that it?" she asked. Jacob nodded, pointing his finger at her.

"You want me to sign some paper?" she asked, watching him carefully. Again he nodded and reached for the tablet. This time he wrote, "You refused." Ortrude flushed.

"The paper you asked me to sign before we were married?" she asked. Again Jacob nodded eagerly. Ortrude stood looking down for a moment, then raising her eyes she said quietly:

"It will make you less anxious. I will sign it. Can you tell me where to find it?"

He reached again for the tablet and wrote, "Dudely."

"Dudely will find it?" she asked. He smiled a contented smile and lay back and closed his eyes. She soon realized that he had gone to sleep, tired from the exertion of the writing.

When Dudley came into the room at noon he found his father brightly smiling. Jacob turned to Ortrude and motioned to her to ask Dudley for the paper he so longed to get hold of.

Ortrude turned very red as she said to Dudley:

"Your father wishes to have you sign a paper that he wants me to sign regarding the disposition of the property." Dudley looked in surprise at his father. The sick man's face was radiant.

"I think I can find it," he said quietly.

"Thank you; it will put his mind at rest." Ortrude looked gratefully at the young man and left the room. Dudley sat down by the bed and realized how Jacob had made his wishes known to Ortrude.

"You are so much better and now that this worry is off your mind I have greater hopes than ever of your speedy recovery."

Jacob shook his head, but a smile lit up his face as he stretched his hand out to his son.

"I think I have found a place where I can borrow some money to tide us over the tight place in our business, Daddy," said the son gaily.

HULDA FROM HOLLAND

Copyright 1916, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

"Mine feet's in a muddle, mine head's in a whirl.

Ven I starts to dance like a leetle Dutch girl."

SO I AM introducing myself to my friends now as Miss Hulda from Holland—that is what the picture we are working on is called, and as you can guess I stumble noisily through my part in large wooden shoes.

Here I have been sitting for the last lagging hour trying to shake the sleep from my eyes and start the lazy pencil down the page, but even pencil conversation is shaken out of me after eight strenuous hours of work in the studio, trying to learn to dance—like Dutch girl fashion. You can talk about your old days of Delsarte and dancing when you tripped the light fantastic through a Virginia reel or turkey-trotted fifteen miles around the ballroom, but I will have it that dancing in wooden shoes, hop, clickity-click, hop-clickity-click is about the most violent form of pleasure you ever indulged in.

"You have to learn to dance," laughed my director, "or some one will suspect that you are Mary Pickford and not Miss Hulda for Holland, after all."

"No wonder she came to America," I replied breathlessly, as I shuffled through another movement of the dance. "I'd go to Afghanistan to shake a pair of wooden shoes."

"Hold on now—you are losing your balance!" but his warning came too late, and plump, down I sat in the middle of the studio floor while all the little children dressed as my Holland brothers and sisters held their sides and shrieked with laughter.

"I wonder why Hulda ever wanted to become a moving-picture actress," I sighed with dismay as I clutched my aching limbs. "She could have fooled the simple Hollanders across the seas, but no such luck with the camera—no one can fool that oge-eyed monster."

"All the more reason why you have to learn to dance," prompted the director, and so my troubles to-day have been unending and I decided by tonight that character roles involve not only a lot of thought, but a lot of exercise as well.

Do you, who saw "The Found

Hug," remember that incident where the girl, Jenny, in the orphanage slapped my face and sent me skidding backward until I landed upon the floor in a dazed heap? There was no acting to that blow and I assure you that it could have felled a circus gladiator if she had been in my place. My head buzzed with it two hours after the unhappy event, which all goes to prove that we moving-picture actresses are of the stuff martyrs are made of.

And then in "Madame Butterfly," what uncomfortable hours of misery I spent when it was necessary to bow, sit and walk like the little Japanese girl. But that belongs to the martyred past and I am now dwelling in the present with Miss Hulda from Holland!

What waxy neat little homes the Dutch housewives are famed for. And so we build our studio sets so spick and span I almost wish they were not to be torn down at the end of the picture, that I could occupy just such an orderly and quaint little home.

Do you remember—it was not so very many years ago—when the art of the moving picture was new and we did not care so much about the minor details in background as we do today? But now we do not enter a scene until the director has had the scenic artist study every nook and corner to make sure there will be no grave error even in the most obscure ornament of architectural decoration.

One last message from Hulda to you, as she sits twirling a new spring violet between her fingers.

"I gift to you this violet in token that we two hat met

And hoping that we two shall soon together get!

ELEVATORS LONGED FOR BY APPELLATE JUDGE

The Hon. Phil M. Crom, presiding judge of the court of appeals, and his co-worker, Judge James E. Robinson of Marysville, were climbing the stairs to their court room on the top floor of the Allen county capital today. It does not prove an easy task, twice a day of all the days they hold court here.

"Do you know," said Judge Crow "that in all the sixteen court houses of the sixteen counties of the district where we hold court, but one is supplied with an elevator."

"Which is that?" was asked.

"Why, the smallest town in the district, at Ottawa, Putnam county," Judge Crow stated.

Putnam county recently erected a fine, new court house.

Counties making up the Third Judicial district are Allen, Auglaize, Crawford, Defiance, Hancock, Hardin, Henry, Logan, Marion, Mercer, Putnam, Paulding, Seneca, Union, Van Wert and Wyandot.

Amusements

TH FAUCROT'S PICTURES.

Olga Petrova has a congenial and appealing roles in "The Soul Market," the new Metro production at the Faurot today. She easily dominates the picture and, as Elaine Elton, a prima donna, gives an impersonation that holds attention throughout. Arthur Hoops and Wilmoth Markyl head the capable cast in her support. Several gay scenes along the Great White Way are introduced. They are quite animated but entirely inoffensive. Views of a theatre, both back stage and front, are particularly interesting. The settings are rich throughout and furnish very effective back grounds. The program also contains a new Drew-Metro comedy, "Childhood's Happy Days," with Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew making some delightful fun. This program will be shown to-day only.

STAR THEATRE.

The big feature of the new program at the Star theatre today is "The Passing of Hell's Crown," a three-reel 101 Bison production with Harry D. Carey and Olive Fuller Golden in the leading roles. It is a corking good story of western life, admirably acted and well produced. Little Billie Jacobs, the clever child actor, is also on the bill in a pretty little comedy, "Little Billie's School Days."

"THE PRINCESS PAT."

"The Princess Pat," the latest addition to the number of Victor Herbert and Henry Blossom comic operas is scheduled for Friday evening, April 21, in this city at the Faurot opera house. The story of the operetta is that of an American girl, Patricia O'Connor, who has married an Italian nobleman. To make him an ardent as a husband as he was a lover, she flirts to the flirting limit with an elderly German-American millionaire who is engaged to her best friend, Grace Holbrook, who is promised one of Herr Schmalz's millions. The plans work, Anthony Schmalz soon discovers that his heart goes pitapat when "The Princess Pat" is near him, for he believes she is in earnest. In the meantime, his son Tony "abducts" Grace Holbrook and they get married. Tony's father becomes philosophical, gives his blessing and promises Tony part of his fortune. The Prince, who has been green-eyed with jealousy, discovers he loves his wife madly and she reciprocates. The score of the operetta has the Victor Herbert ring—and the book of Henry Blossom contains many bright lines, and reaches the high watermark of the Herbert-Blossom partnership. The opera is beautifully staged by Fred G. Latham and produced by John Cort with the following splendid cast—Ruth Welch, Oscar Pilman, Philip H. Ryley, Effie Toye, Earl Benham, Ben Hendricks, Edward Metcalf, Tots Marks, Francis Bryan and Giorgio Sregario together with singing chorus and an augmented Herbert orchestra. Seats are now selling.

AL. G. FIELD MINSTRELS.

The annual visit of Al. G. Field's Minstrels to the Faurot will be made next Saturday, when the popular organization will give two performances at that theatre. This has been the greatest year in the history of the Field show, for which the excellence of the performance provided by this astute manager is largely responsible. Seats for both matinee and night performances at the Faurot will be placed on sale Friday morning.

AT THE EMPIRE

True Boardman, the star of the "Stingaree" series, will be seen at the Empire today in a new series. Everyone who saw one of the "Stingaree" episodes will be filled with pleasure over the fact that today at the Empire, True Boardman, who portrayed Stingaree, Marin Sala who played the part of his sweetheart, together with the entire Stingaree cast, will be seen in a big new series entitled "The Social Pirates." The author of "The Social Pirates" is the same man who wrote "Stingaree." It is a series of fifteen episodes, each one complete, that for thrills, rapid action and romance will surpass even "Stingaree" itself. The settings are gorgeous, and the gowns worn by the feminine members of the cast are the most wonderful and expensive ever seen in a photo play, amounting in value to $70,000. The first episode entitled "A Little Monte Carlo" is a strong vibrant sensational story.

ORPHEUM.

For the last half of the week starting with three performances today the Orpheum theatre will be devoted to musical tabloid. A return engagement of that popular organization Hodges and Tynes Musical Comedy company, who scored a tremendous success here some two months ago appearing in the musical comedy "A Night On a Broadway Roof Garden." Now the same company returns with practically the same players in a new musical comedy entitled "All for a Girl." This musical farce has met with even more success than their first offering, and will serve to keep the audiences roaring with laughter, and delighted with the new musical numbers in the new piece, which like the first one presented are mostly written by that well known composer Ernie Burnett. Clever Jimmy Hodges and charming Jean Tynes, have in this new musical piece, even better opportunities to show their cleverness, than in their former success. A host of pretty girls surround them.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE ENLISTING YOUTH

National Convention Will Plan Nation-Wide Dry Campaign.

COLUMBUS, O., April 20.—Special plans for enlisting young people's organizations in the fight for national prohibition will be made by the Anti-Saloon League of America at its national convention to be held June 26 to 29 in Indianapolis, according to announcement of the program committee. A number of national organizations of young men and women interested in abolition of the liquor traffic will meet simultaneously with the Anti-Saloon League convention. The Eastern College oratorical contest will be a feature of the opening day of the convention.

Campaign plans will be developed at the convention for co-ordination of state Anti-Saloon Organizations in state prohibition campaigns as well as in the national fight.

Among the speakers at the meetings will be: Dr. Howard H. Russell, aged, founder of the Anti-Saloon League and general secretary of the Lincoln-Lee Legion; Bishop Luther B. Wilson of New York, president of the League; Daniel A. Poling of Boston, former prohibition candidate for governor of Ohio; Rev. E. S. Shumaker, superintendent of the League in Indiana; John G. Wilsey, former liberal leader of Texas; and Governor Moses Alexander of Idaho.

On Sunday afternoon, June 25, the day preceding the formal convening of the convention, a mass meeting of men from Indianapolis and central Indiana will be held at Tomlinson Hall. The collegiate oratorical contest is set for Monday afternoon June 26. On that afternoon a rally of young people's organizations will be held. Round table discussions will feature the program for Tuesday morning. Delegates from Canada will tell of the successful fight for prohibition in the dominion.

JURY DISAGREES IN THE HOOKER CASE

Report Last Night That a Verdict Cannot be Found.

The jury in the case of the State of Ohio against Ralph Hooker, saloon keeper, failed to agree and was discharged at 8:30 o'clock last evening, when it was found that they would be unable to reach a verdict in the case. The jury which was charged by Justice of the Peace Morris, retired at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

According to several of the state officials that are making investigations in Lima, another trial of the case will be held in the near future. In the meantime a number of other local saloon keepers will probably be arrested in a few days on charges of selling intoxicating liquor to minors.

The arrests in view, according to state officials, were delayed until some decision was made in regard to the Hooker case; but since the disagreement of the jury it is likely that instead of waiting until after the next trial of the case, they will swear out warrants against the saloon proprietors immediately.

PROTECT SCHOOL CHILDREN
Measles, scarlet fever and whooping cough are prevalent among school children in many cities. A common cold never should be neglected as it weakens the system so that it is not in condition to throw off more serious diseases. Albert Massey, 60 years old, carpenter, admitted to the State hospital north of the city from Massillon, died at that institution, this forenoon. Arrangements for the funeral will not be announced until the arrival of his mother, Mrs. Christina Snider, from Detroit, Mich.

HIS AGE IS AGAINST HIM

"I am 52 years old and I have been troubled with kidneys and bladder for a good many years," writes Arthur Jones, Allen Kans. "My age is against me to ever get cured, but Foley Kidney Pills do me more good than anything I ever tried." Rheumatism, aching back, shooting pains, stiff joints, irregular action, all have been relieved. H. F. Vorkamp. tu-thu-sat

WHEAT MARKET IS STRONGER ON REPORT

CHICAGO, April 20.—Considerable strength developed in the wheat market today, based largely on New York stock market advances, which were attributed in some quarters here to confidence that a break with Germany would be averted at the eleventh hour.

Stormy weather that seriously retarded seeding in the spring crop here had a further bullish effect. It was said that in some places all farm work would be delayed a week as a result of rain and snow and that acreage would be cut down to a material extent.

Opening prices, which varied from the same as yesterday's finish to 3/4c higher, with May at $1.13 to 1 1/4c and July at $1.13 1/4 to 1 1/8c, were followed by decided additional gains.

Corn weakened under heavy selling from a leading speculator who recently had been purchasing on a large scale. The offerings were absorbed by big warehouse interests. After opening 1/4c off to a shade up, prices underwent a slight further sag.

Oats had no independent action. Changes were chiefly governed by corn.

Lower prices on hogs tended to ease provisions. Trade was light. The wheat market closed steady, 7-8 to 1-8 net higher, with May at $1.14 1-8 and July at $1.13 7-8. The corn close was easy at 1-8 to 1-4 to 1-4 net decline.

The corn close was: Wheat, May $1.14 1-8; July $1.13 7-8. Corn, May 75 3-4; July 76 1-2. Oats, May 45 1-8; July 42 7-8. Pork, May $23.20; July $22.95. Lard, May $11.65; July $11.80. Ribs, May $12.15; July $12.32.

THE BETTER JUDGE.
Some years ago the Oldham antagonists were producing one of Handel's oratorios, under the personal tutelage and conductorship of the late Sir Charles Halle. Among the orchestra was the famous and gigantic bassoon player, George Seal of Ashton-under-Lyne. At the first rehearsal Halle went to George and, indicating several bars for the bassoon, told him not to play them on the night of the performance. George was inwardly boiling with indignation, but said nothing. On the night of the performance George played the banned music.

When the affair was over Halle went up to Seal in a great rage and, pointing to the notes, said: "I told you to leave them out, didn't I?"

"Aye, you did," said George, "but Handel told me to put them in, and he were a better judge than you."—London Answers

COAL IS COSTLY IN THE ARGENTINE AND HARD TO GET

Price is Now $35 Per Ton
in Gold and Supply Limited.

Country's Navy Useless Because of Lack of Fuel; Oil Scarce.

BUENOS AIRES, April 19.—Coal or ordinary consumption in the Argentine is now $35 gold per ton, and hard to purchase even at that figure.
To prevent the reduction of the present meagre supply, the national government has ordered the principal steamship companies not to put on board any outboard vessel more coal than necessary to carry it to the nearest Brazilian port of call. This coal is the property of the steamship companies stored here as a precautionary measure and the fact that the government has been obliged to place an embargo on this private property is indicative of the seriousness of the fuel problems in this country.

The railroads likewise have been faced to economize by cutting down the summer time-tables of trains, and in the meantime they have placed orders for 1,500,000 tons of hard wood for fuel. But even wood has gone up $5 a ton within a week and is now quoted at $33 paper, or $14 gold. Charcoal which is largely used for domestic purposes is also $5 a ton dearer.

The situation is such that even the ships of the Argentine navy are declared to be impotent owing to the lack of coal. The American-built battleships Rivadavia and Moreno were constructed to burn oil, but apparently the oil problem is nearly as serious as the coal situation.
Crude petroleum from the Argentine wells is being offered in limited quantities at $80 paper, $34 gold per ton. Although reported inferior only to the best Rumanian oil, the Argentine government and people have displayed a sceptical attitude toward the native oil.

The deposits have been said to be unlimited, but despite this the output has been small and neither the navy or manufacturers generally avail themselves of the native product. The German Electric Light and Power company, which supplies this city and suburbs, and which formerly used coal exclusively, began to use the Argentine oil after the outbreak of the war but has lately discontinued that and is now burning the Mexican product. This notwithstanding the recent grant by the government of $15,000,000 to develop the Argentine oil regions.

An official report of conditions prevailing in and around the Comodoro-Rivadavia oil area, shows some inefficient conditions under which the development of the field is being undertaken. Water is lacking in that region and has to be brought from a place more than thirty miles away, and labor is also scarce. Being a government monopoly, and heavily fiscalized, the operations have been elaborate and costly, but, it is charged, extremely inefficient. It is said to be doubtful whether the oil fields will ever respond to the elaborate hopes based upon the casual discovery of them in 1907. A government inspector, just returned from the district, expresses his surprise that the locomotives plying to and from the petroleum zone are still being fired with costly coal.

Paeago are declared to contain inexhaustible supplies of that fuel, but with scarcity of coasting vessels and the difficulty of securing labor for that bleak region, it is more than doubtful whether it will ever pay of wood there is an enormous supply, but it grows in the remote and generally insalubrious regions.

As for American coal, the freight charged, 90 shillings per ton, rules it out of consideration, in view of the fact that the British product is shipped at $50 a ton. This can be done because freighters are sure of picking up profitable charters in the River Plate for England or France.
To give an idea of the manifold ways in which the lack of fuel affects the currents of commerce, it is sufficient to note that the great hotel proprietors have met and deliberated upon the best course of action in view of the increased kitchen and laundry expenses, which are nearly double what they were.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts to Flush Kidneys
If Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost par-alyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush of the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.
